He then departed London and entered the United States at Washington-Dulles Airport via UA 925 from London-Heathrow, originating in Dubai that same day, on Air Emirates flight EK0001. ALGHAMDI was accompanied by American Airlines (AA) Flight 77 hijacker MAJED MOQED. Both ALGHAMDI and MOQED indicated on their Customs Declarations forms that they were carrying in excess of $10,000 in U.S. or foreign currency, and both listed the Hayat Regency (sic) in Washington, DC, as their destination address.	A review of the flight manifest for UA Flight 925 revealed that MOQED most likely utilized the name MASHAANMOGED MAYED on the flight, but reverted to MAJED MASHAAN MOGED prior to passing through United States Customs. This assumption is based upon the flight manifest and the fact that passengers ALGHAMDI and MAYED were traveling under a group code which means that airline personnel associated with the two as traveling together. Further, the INS has no record of an individual named MASHAANMOGED MAYED passing through United States Customs Service (USCS) subsequent to UA Flight 925.
